Embracing a New Americana

With the Hudson Valley Collection, Stickley looks at traditional Americana through a contemporary lens, updating the style's familiar warmth with variations that make it new. American black walnut in a deep Dark Roast finish is paired with light elements of Natural Maple to create a crisp, playful contrast of tones, while the collection's upholstered pieces give traditional forms a modern scale and tailoring. Hudson Valley offers countless opportunities for both nostalgia and fresh self-expression.

MISSION

Still Extraordinary After 125 Years

At the turn of the 20th century in Central New York, the Stickley brothers began putting a lasting mark on the American furniture industry. Gustav Stickley introduced his ground-breaking “New Furniture”, which became famous as Mission, but it was Leopold and John George Stickley who lay the foundation for a brand that has lasted a century and a quarter.

Their expert craftsmanship and business sense—as well as Leopold’s gift for adapting to changing customer tastes—gave the brand true staying power. In 1974, years after Leopold’s death, Alfred and Aminy Audi became the new owners of L. & J.G. Stickley, reviving the then-struggling company and building on the brothers’ legacy to cement Stickley’s place in American furniture history.

Throughout its 125-year history, Stickley has produced America’s finest handcrafted furniture, with more than 90% still built in New York and North Carolina.

MARTINE

Martine showcases the warmth and exuberance of cherry, but smoothed, rounded, and softened. Its clean shapes have a touch of mid-century chic, and edges and angles have been smoothed away in favor of curves, sweeps, and arcs.

Stickley Designer Rugs are finely crafted works of art that are unsurpassed in quality and style. Our rugs are handcrafted by the world's most experienced weavers in Nepal, Pakistan, and India—where the art of rug-making originated more than 2500 years ago—and only the finest wool and silk go into each piece.

Every step in a rug's creation, from spinning and dyeing the yarn to hand-knotting the design to shearing and washing the finished piece, is a testament to the artisans' skill. These heirloom-quality rugs are created to bring beauty and delight for generations.
